BSc Access Module

People & Organisational Management (20 Credits) (core)

Aims

This module explores the question of “what is management?” and seeks to distinguish it from leadership. It explains the role and function of management within organisations in the construction and the built environment. It also considers the role of change as a central theme as organisations seek to come to terms with issues that are constantly impacting, both positively and negatively, on the people, management and the structures of organisations.

Learning outcomes

- L01. Identify the concepts and principles associated with the building, environment and technology of simple construction and be able to evaluate and interpret them using sketches, drawings or in written form.
- L02. Describe building elements and components in specific situations; how, when and where they would be favoured; and the construction sequence for simple buildings.
- L03. Evaluate the appropriateness of different approaches, materials and construction in simple construction in accordance with building, environment and technology theories and sustainability.
- L04. Communicate accurately and reliably on building, environment and technology issues for simple construction, using structured coherent arguments and theory.
