Student Charter 2022-23

Student Charter

UCEM's vision is to be the centre of excellence for built environment education. We are proud to be a truly accessible higher education provider welcoming and supporting students from around the world.

The Student Charter has been devised in partnership with our students and reflects our continuing commitment to working with our students, our responsibility to provide transparency around our operations, clear communication, and mutual respect.

The Student Charter, whilst not a contractual document, outlines what you can expect as a student studying with UCEM and your responsibilities as a UCEM student.

By working in partnership, we will ensure we provide a supportive learning journey which will support you to fulfil your career aspirations and receive an exceptional student experience.

Student Charter

The principles

The UCEM Student Charter outlines the way in which the University College community should work together in partnership and is underpinned by the following principles:

1. The staff and student community equally respect UCEM's core values of support, passion, excellence, and integrity.
2. We will treat each other with respect, courtesy, and professionalism.
3. We recognise the equality of all, promoting diversity within the student and staff community.
4. We work in partnership together to advance skills, knowledge, and education within our community.

UCEM commits to reviewing this charter each year to ensure it reflects our continuing commitment to providing a "best in class" student experience, whilst reflecting current challenges and context.

'We' in the commitments below refers to the learning community of both UCEM students and staff.

Student Charter

Our shared commitments:

The UCEM Student Charter outlines the way in which the University College community should work together in partnership and is underpinned by the following principles:

1. UCEM will provide, and students will participate actively with, an engaging, relevant, safe, and supportive learning experience.
2. We communicate with each other in ways that are timely, clear, and accurate using appropriate and professional channels.
3. We are committed to promoting sustainability in our learning community, programmes, and in the way we operate.
4. We will work together to support a vibrant student community, ensuring the feedback loop is complete, and that students can feed into the decision-making processes of the University College.
5. We will act with integrity and transparency, using established means to address any concerns – for example, using fair and transparent Complaints, Appeals, Disciplinary and Fitness to Study procedures.
6. We will be proactive and timely in engaging with, as students, or providing, as UCEM, additional support mechanisms if students experience a change in circumstance that affects health or wellbeing.
7. Together we will act swiftly and take proper action to combat concerns raised regarding inappropriate behaviour, alleged harassment, bullying, or misconduct.
8. As staff, we commit to providing timely and accurate information, advice, and guidance regarding all aspects of academic and non-academic matters to support you in your studies, including constructive and clear assessment feedback.
9. As students, we commit to actively engaging with staff to ensure successful completion of our programmes (and, if applicable, Apprenticeships); use feedback opportunities provided to reflect on and develop our work; and agree to comply with UCEM's rules and regulations, which are detailed in the Terms and Conditions of Contract and the Academic and Programme Regulations.
