

90%

Think that universities and colleges should promote sustainable development

81%

Agree that university courses should develop student's social and environmental skills

80%

said it was fairly/very important that their future employer makes a difference in a social and environmental issues

Students said it was very important to be taught knowledge and skills in:

85%

Communicating complex information

92%

Planning for the long and short term

83%

Related ethical issues

70%

251

Would choose to take £1000 salary cut to work for a company with a strong environmental and social record

50%

consider environment and global issues important when choosing a university or college

Students believe coursework or dissertations are the most relevant ways of including the skills and knowledge to help the environment

82%

70% Agree

Agree that UCEM takes action to limit the negative impacts it has on the environment and society

72%

Would like to learn more about Sustainable development

What's being taught?

69%

Using resources to limit environment impact

63%

Ethical issues as linked to subject

70%

Planning for the long and short term